

Macsimum Awards: Summer NAMM 2007

Top Ten

Pok by X-Tempo

When is a studio controller not a studio controller? When it is a wireless foot-pedal controller that does so much more than run your gear. An eight position wireless remote control pedal board can be used with any shortcut enabled studio software including ProTools, Logic, Cubase, GarageBand and many, many more. By the way, did I say ANY shortcut enabled software? Yes, I did. According to the folks at X-Tempo, this wireless stompbox-on-steroids can be used with nearly any software including Adobe Photoshop so there are a million and one uses possible for this easy to use marvel. You may see it released under a different name with different applications sometime soon, one would hope. Add to that their slick presentation, excellent swag and smiling staff? I cannot wait to see what they come up with next.

This article may be viewed in its entirety at http://www.macsimumnews.com/index.php/archive/macsimum\_awards\_summer\_namm\_2007